From the Desk of Deacon Bob Wagner*A TIME FOR REMEMBERING

With the Feast of All Saints on November 1st immediately followed by the Feast of All Souls on the 2nd, the month of November takes on a character of remembrance.

In the stained glass windows of St. Wenceslaus, we have a picture gallery of the saints who have gone before us. These saints are our ancient relatives, our baptism, the common DNA that binds us to them.

We don't need to be in church to gaze on pictures of the Church's saints. On the walls of our homes, in our family photo albums, our family's old slides, Super 8 movies, and digital movies, we encounter our own galleries of saint-filled stained glass windows. The family photo albums that my mother and father compiled during their long life together contain my family's own gallery of saints. Pictured in black and white or later in color is my Irish "Grandpap Marron," my maternal grandparents, Oscar and Mary (Marron) Jerstrom, my paternal grandparents, Andrew and Katherine Wojnar, my father at 1½ years sitting on a chair, and my little sister, Mary, posing with her dog, Pawnee.

We carry within ourselves all the saints that have gone before us. Their DNA has determined the color of our eyes and hair (or lack thereof, in my case), the gifts with which they were blessed, music, cooking, farming, mathematics, writing, and so on, mysteriously passed on to us. Our habits, the way we laugh, our faults, all which makes us who we are, are all traceable to the family saints within our DNA.

As we are linked to them on a cellular level, so we are linked to them on a spiritual level. Every time we celebrate sacraments they are gathered together with us. Every time we rejoice, they share in our joy. Every time we grieve, they share in our sorrow. We can call on them to assist us at anytime. We can call upon their wisdom, and, most importantly, we can call upon them for their prayers.

As we sit around the table at our family celebrations, let us remember them in story and thank them for the gifts they have passed on to us. Let us toast them and remind them, when we pass from this life to the next, to be there to greet us and welcome us home.

From the Desk of Father Dave

Love of God and Country

At a recent school Mass, as a part of my homily, I had everyone stand and recite the Pledge of Allegiance. This brought back many memories of elementary school, and today I am proud to be a citizen of the greatest country in the world. When I led the pledge, I did so to emphasize that we are "one nation under God." My point was as much as we love our country, we must love God all the more. Our Founding Fathers called on God to inspire them and guide them at the time our country was created. Our country has been a powerful force for good in the world, but being imperfect, we have fallen short of our ideals and need forgiveness.

In November we honor and remember the men and women in our armed forces. I have nothing but great respect for those in our military who risk their lives on our behalf. I made an attempt to join the Army but was not accepted for medical reasons. I was disappointed that I wasn't accepted but I saw that God had other plans for me to fulfill in my life. I remain in awe of the patriots in every generation, who serve in our armed forces.

One can serve God in religious life as an ordained priest, deacon, or religious sister or brother. Fr. Kevin, Deacon Bob, and I received a special call to ordination and we answered it. Our lives have been filled with many graces, but we also face many challenges. The way to give to God is not limited to the ordained, the laity is vitally important to the Church. Strong lay leaders help parishes thrive. We are so fortunate to have staff and volunteers that are dedicated to their faith. The laity of our Church have the opportunity of witnessing to their faith at work places and in neighborhoods, places not evangelized by clergy. Each of us is called by God to do the best we can using the gifts that God has given us to share our faith. In this way we can honor our commitment to serve God and country.

A Big Thank You ~

To everyone who helped make Dad's Belgian Waffle CCW Breakfast a great success! We served over 300 meals and with the profits we will provide Christmas and Easter flowers for the altars, give Subway gift cards to all the Mass servers, pay for the baccalaureate breakfast, and the dinner for our 10th grade Confirmation students. We also financially give to Adopt-A-Family, Senior Sendoff, and Prom. A Special Thank You to all the wonderful ladies who decorated, helped in the kitchen and dining area, and to the SWS children who helped clear tables. Because of your generosity we were able to provide the Hope House with 11 adult takeout meals. You are truly disciples of Jesus and Mary. Blessings, Mary Wick and Marcy Dvorak

FAITH FORMATION AND YOUTH MINISTRY

IMPORTANT: Required and mandated PCYI on Nov. 12th at noon for all high school students! This year we are pleased to host Homeward Bound Theatre Company for their presentation of Not a Word: "Not a Word" subtly portrays the struggle of a teenage girl, Caitlyn, whose soccer coach shows inappropriate interest in her. Through Caitlyn's unfortunate experience, audience members are empowered with tools for self protection and sexual abuse awareness. In a world where sex abuse takes many forms, young victims are too often left with paralyzing feelings of guilt, and fear. The fact that the vast majority of abuse victims know their abusers make this issue even more difficult to address.
